

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Brian Ferdinand Joins Shop as Studio Partner

November 7, 2017 - Vancouver, WA – Washington design studio Shop today announces that Brian Ferdinand, designer, developer, writer, and entrepreneur has been appointed as a partner and creative director. Brian brings his years of design and development experience to the growing studio helping Shop further develop its infrastructure with the goal of expanding its reach as a regional and national studio.

“I am beyond excited to join the crew at Shop. Stepping into such a diverse, multi-disciplinary studio with such great minds will allow us to push the limits of the industry and creation. The possibilities and opportunities that are being created by this partnership are endless.”

Prior to joining Shop, Brian was a development director and senior developer at the Vancouver, WA design agency, Gravitare. In that role, he handled development duties for many of Gravitare’s top tier clients and acted as point of contact for the rest of the development team—helping to write and codify the successful design studio’s development process.
